Important Guidelines for Students

When You Wake Up

-  Set your alarm before registration. This will ensure you are punctual.
-  Ensure you have breakfast before registration starts. This will give you the vital energy you need to help you learn.
-  Ensure you are properly dressed (no pyjamas).
-  Ensure you have the right equipment. This includes something to write on and the essential equipment for mathematics (protractor, compass, pencil, squared paper ideally).
-  Ensure you have your “packs” ready. Your teachers may be going through some of these worksheets during the lesson.
-  Find a suitable place for working and studying. This should be a peaceful and quiet location with a desk.

During The Lessons

-  If you are marked late, your parents may be contacted. No learning time can be lost!
-  You must have your camera on at all times.
-  Phones should not be used during lessons. Phones can only be used to support learning and with permission from the teacher (when you are experiencing technical issues with your laptop).
-  Please be respectful of your peers and teacher. Only one person should be talking at any given time.
-  Raise your hand during the lesson if you have any questions.
-  You are encouraged to contribute verbally to the learning that is taking place.
-  Disruptive behavior will not be tolerated.
-  You should not be eating during lessons. However, you may eat or drink during the rest periods at the end of each lesson.
-  If your teacher asks for work to be submitted, you must meet this deadline.
-  If you are struggling to meet any deadlines, please email your subject teacher to explain the reason why.
